Student-Made Videos

- ★ In order to compete in the World of 8 Billion student video contest, your child must film and submit a video to <https://www.worldof8billion.org>. The contest is used as an opportunity for students to learn about and related global challenges.
- ★ It is your child's decision whether or not to be on screen in their video. It is your child's decision to have their voice included in their video. Videos do not need to include your child's face or voice; different styles are accepted, including live action, Claymation, digital animation, stop motion, etc.
- ★ To learn how data received as a part of the entries to this contest is handled, see the contest's privacy policy: <https://www.worldof8billion.org/privacy-policy/>. If your child is selected as a finalist or winner, consent will be sought so we can share their name, school, city, and photo.
- ★ Please place a check mark in the relevant box(es) below, sign and return this form:

1. Upload with your video submission.
